

Popular Halloween Event Seeks Local Howlers and Prowlers.

Reber Ranch is inviting all locals and their little “monsters” (pets) to its annual Howl and Prowl event on Saturday, October 24th, featuring free hayrides, caricature drawings, a parade, and much more.

Reber Ranch, whose primary focus is to serve the local Fido’s, Fluffy’s and Mr. Ed’s, will be hosting their annual Halloween event, Howl and Prowl, on Saturday, October 24th from 10am to 2pm.

Throughout the day, Reber Ranch will be offering free hayrides, caricature drawings (for people and pets), children’s craft stations, snacks and drinks, and a costume parade and contest for those who want to join.

“Our main priority for this event is to bring the entire community together for a fun day that everyone can participate in,” said Carrie Estrada, Marketing Manager for Reber Ranch. “This year there are free activities for people and pets of all ages, so this is an event people do not want miss!”

Local figures such as Mayor Suzette Cooke, Andrea Keikkala from the Kent Chamber of Commerce, and Polly Shepherd from the Kent Reporter will be in attendance and will also be judging the costume contest.
